Intervene NOW!

domestic violence intervention

Are you making bad choices in your relationship?

Are you repeating violence you might have seen as a child?

Your partner, and your kids, deserve better!

You deserve better.

Power and control in relationships may seem to have benefits, but they are shallow and short-lived. AND the consequences can be serious and long lasting.

You can do better, but you have to be accountable!

There is a better way! Intervene NOW! Can Help

The Intervene NOW! program consists of psychoeducational classes geared toward men and women (in separate groups) who have committed domestic violence against their partners, their children and/or others in their family.

The men's curriculum is primarily the STOP Violence program, developed by David Wexler, and complies with the Standards and Guidelines for Batterer Intervention Programs (www.mocadsv.org). The women's program is tailored to the particular needs of women, while still complying with the Standards.
